

WOVEN CHEVRON COWL

Low-sew and cozy? Yes, please! Create this woven cowl with two tones of fleece and only a single seam at the back.

DESIGNER:
Cynthia Shaffer

STITCH FACTOR:

low sew

WHAT YOU'LL DO:

Cutting, weaving & simple sewing

You Will Need:

- » 1/3 yard (30.5 cm) dark fleece
- » 1/3 yard (30.5 cm) light fleece
- » Craft knife
- » Craft mat
- » 1 sheet of transparency paper
- » Water-soluble fabric marker
- » Cutting template (page 124)
- » Sewing machine or needle and thread

figure 1

Cut the Panel & the Strips

1. Cut a panel from the dark fleece that measures 9 x 25 inches (22.9 x 63.5 cm).
2. Cut 6 strips from the light fleece that measure 1 x 25 inches (2.5 x 63.5 cm).
3. Lay the dark fleece panel out flat, and using the template, mark the slanted lines with the water-soluble fabric marker.
4. Continue marking the panel with the lines that are on the cutting template, spacing them about 1 inch (2.5 cm) apart.
5. Cut the slanted chevron lines open using the craft knife and the craft mat.

Weave the Fleece

6. Starting at one end, weave the light fleece stripes into the panel. Start each stripe on the same side of the panel to create the chevron pattern (figure 1).
7. Once all the strips have been woven into the panel, cut off the excess portion of the strips on both ends.
8. Baste the strips in place on both ends.
9. Bring the short ends of the panel together, and twist one end to create the mobius loop. Pin the ends together, and then stitch the ends with a 1/4-inch (0.6 cm) seam allowance.

Wear

Woven Leather Cuff

Actual size

Top short edge

Woven Chevron Cowl Cutting Template

Enlarge 200%

Optional bow template for gloves

Sweet Bow Socks

Enlarge 125%